1. Framework

The Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) framework, states that “providers must have arrangements in place to support children with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND)”. As a maintained school, Arlesdene Nursery School and Pre-school is required to take into account the Special Educational Needs Code of Practice.

The Teachers’ Standards expect all teachers to have “a clear understanding of the needs of all pupils, including those with special educational needs and/or those with disabilities, and be able to use and evaluate distinctive teaching approaches to engage and support them”.

2. Definitions

The SEN Code of Practice (2015) considers that “a child or young person has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her”.

The definition for a child of compulsory school age having a learning difficulty or learning disability is that they have:

- a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age; or
- a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools.

In the early years, a child under compulsory school age has special educational needs if he or she is likely to fall within the definition above when they reach compulsory school age, or would do so if special educational provision was not made for them.

“Special educational provision” for this purpose is educational provision that is additional to or different from that made generally for other children of the same age by mainstream schools, maintained nursery schools, or by relevant early years providers.

3. Aims

We aim to promote achievement and success for all. We believe that this is important so that children become confident learners who actively engage with the learning opportunities in our rich and stimulating environment.

We understand that children develop at different rates and have unique and individual learning styles. Through observation and monitoring we aim to provide learning opportunities using first hand practical experiences that match children’s developing needs.

We celebrate and record children’s strengths and encourage a positive self-image.

Parents/carers play a vital role in supporting their child’s education; we actively encourage communication and partnership when working with all parents to support children’s next steps.

4. Policy

7. Rainbow Group Provision

Arlesdene Nursery School and Pre-school understands and respects that all children have differing needs. Our Rainbow group provisions strive to accommodate all children through our inclusive curriculum. We provide a caring and nurturing environment to ensure all children have a sense of belonging and are given the opportunity to be the best they can be. Our Rainbow groups are a calm and welcoming provision which reduces distressed behaviour for our neuro diverse children.

We currently have 2 Rainbow groups which are situated in smaller rooms. These rooms are calmer, quieter, with less distractions and resources which are tailored to the needs of the children.

Children are given time to play freely and follow their interests.

Play and language is modelled at all opportunities as well as turn taking and how to make interactions with other children.

Rainbow groups do not provide 1:1 support, instead we work on a ratio of four adults to eight children.

Each child has their own individual table, with their picture and a now and next board and table time is featured regularly in the daily timetable.

Attention Autism: Bucket time happens daily, this is short, structured sessions, which helps children develop joint shared attention. Our staff have been trained by Gina Davies

Speech & Language Therapist: We are extremely fortunate to have our own speech and language therapist who works in rainbow group one day a week

Sensory Room: We have a sensory area in each classroom.

Snack: We understand children have limited diets, so snack can be of parents' choice. Some children are motivated by food and staff can use a picture exchange system to help children communicate

7.1. What curriculum will my child follow?

Staff are aware that children will make small steps of progress and this is celebrated in all children. Our curriculum goals are inclusive and achievable, with our pre-milestones linked to the Early Years Development Journal, our main assessment tool

7.2. How will I know how my child is progressing?

- Individual Learning Plans
- TAF meetings, an opportunity to bring all professionals together
